Market Heavy Following Announcement of Failure

The failed firm, in other words, was in-a sound basis. But the matter, however, considered obviously, again brought up for discussion the more or less unsatisfactory state of the bond market taken, as a whole, that has been a matter of general comment for many months back. Dull Since Last Fall.

For a variety of attributed reasons the bond business has been dull ever since Laclede Gas. the beginning of last fall. Some of these that at the time stated the market was swamped with large issues of railway seministics coming on top of flotations, allowed and continuous coming on the company of the co per cent, and declaring that the present high cost of living forced them to take up with other more speculative issues even if these latter purchases were distinctively hazardous.

A large part of the old-fashioned bond business has thus been diverted into new channels, such as irrigation bonds bearing an advanced rate of interest, and for these there has been a great sale.

To add to the adverse influence of the failure referred to the foreign markets were depressed to-day, and London turned up as a seller of between 25,000 and 30,000 shares of stock because apparently of a recurrence of the prennial Balkan difficulty, and a threat of war between Greece and Turkey.

A feature of the business was, as has been the case for several weeks, a series of declines in stocks for which there is a poor market, and which have recently been the subject of active and doubtless unjustified "pool" speculation.

New York, Feb. 2.—Though no decided advance took place, there were certain features of the cotton situation which made would-be short sellers rather timid. Who is it that is so steadily absorbing March and May and taking it out of the market? That query alone has become a disquieting one to some who were recently bearish. And how about the receipts? They are so small that they excite more and more emphatic comment. The arrivals at the ports to-day were less than one-half those of a week ago and not one-seventh of those for the same day last year. Supplies before the end of the crop year at this rate will be down to a very low point.

LOCAL FINANCIAL GOSSIP.

The approximate gross earnings of the Seaboard Air Line Railway for the third week of January and for the three weeks ended January 22 reflect a slowing down 100 at in the movement of traffic over the system, but this is usual in the first month of a year and cannot be taken as indicative of more than seasonable falling off in business in the territory the Seaboard

For the third week of January gross earnings increased 2.70 per cent; for three weeks of the month the increase amounted to 6.40 per cent, and for the fiscal year to January 22, an increase of 11.79 per cent is shown.

This is not a bad showing when it is recalled that in the corresponding period of 1909 earnings increased compared with 1908, about 10 per cent, while thus far this year the increase has been 11.79 per cent. It is estimated that for the fiscal year ended June 30 the gross earnings of the Seaboard Air Line system as now constituted, will exceed $20,000,000, against $17,-706,592 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1909, and that the amount applicable to interest will largely exceed requirements, including interest on the adjustment per cent bonds, which is payable only if earned and declared.

In well-informed circles there is no doubt that the company will regularly pay the coupons on the adjustment bonds, beginning on August 1 this year, when 88% the first coupon becomes due.

The Seaboard is now earning at the rate of all interest charges, including that on the adjustment bonds, a surplus equivalent to the full 4 per cent on the preferred stock and about 11/2 per cent on the the common stock.

Trading on the local stock exchange was yesterday of about the character of ecent days, with the railway shares eading the sales. Washington Railway and Electric preferred sold freely at 88 and fractions below, while the commo stock came out in 50-share lots at 38 to 37%. Considerable of the stock was for sale, coming from holders in New York, who are unloading the Washington secur ities in the face of the falling market in Wall street. Other trading was light and mostly in fractional lots, with small changes in the current prices.
